++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Feeling cold with sunny spells and showers.

Today:
A largely dry morning with sunny intervals especially in the west. Cloudier in the east with some patchy rain. Further showers will develop in the east into the afternoon with the southwest peninsula seeing the best of the sunshine. Maximum temperature 11 deg C (52 deg F).

Tonight:
Staying predominantly dry with clear spells across most of Devon and Cornwall. Cloudier across eastern parts with the risk of some scattered showers, these turning wintry, especially over high ground. Minimum temperature 0 deg C (32 deg F).

Sunday:
A cold start to the day with a mixture of sunny spells and scattered showers. Showers may turn heavy at times and giving some hail, sleet, or hill snow. Maximum temperature 10 deg C (50 deg F).

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:
Monday, a cold start, turning cloudy with some rain. Sunny spells and scattered showers on Tuesday. Dry with sunny intervals on Wednesday. Milder.
